HEBER BIOGRAPHIES

High School, Weber College, Brigham Young University and the Northwestern University Medical School at Chicago, Ill. He interned at the LDS Hospital, Salt Lake City.

He was the owner of Heber Hospital and Clinic and co-owner of the Mt. Spa Resort, and had resided in Heber City 12 years. He was a kind and understanding person and was loved by the people of Wasatch County.

His interest in gardening made his home grounds a beauty spot in Heber. He took an active part in civic affairs. His art of cooking was unexcelled. The Smorgasbord luncheons he prepared were the finest of their kind. He did all the buying and most of the cooking. Hundreds of dollars were raised through these dinners for polio drives.

He loved to fish and hunt on his days away from the hospital. He was a capable and useful person.

Old roommates still reminisce on his student meals, cooked on typical limited student budgets. Rolfe Peterson, KSL-TV personality, says what he misses most are the pork chops and mushroom gravy. Norman R. Bowen, editorial staff member of the Deseret News and Telegram, remembers his light, fluffy biscuits and roasts.

Popular Cook

Even now, the doctor muses, he is called upon to cook the steaks whenever invited out for dinner.

Dr. Draper lists his specialty as lobster a la conrad and dressings, but Mrs. Draper is harder pressed to rate one food above mother. She says her husband's constantly experimenting with new foods and new decorations.

No slouch at smorgasbords, Dr. Draper has given two at Christ-mas parties for personnel at the Heber Hospital. He is chairman of this year's polio, drive in Heber, was chairman of last year's polio banquet and helped prepare the polio banquet two years ago.

Dr. Draper is a native of Sunset, Davis County, and attended Davis High School. He received his medical degree from Northwestern University and has practiced medicine in Wasatch County for the past five years.

Tickets, on sale for $2.50 per plate, have almost reached the 500 quota set for the smorgas-bord, reports Gene Payne, Wasatch County drive chairman. Sales will end Thursday evening.

SMORGASBORD CHEF.—Dr. Willard Draper shows some of the culinary skills which will go into preparations for Saturday's polio benefit at Heber. Here he stuffs a beef heart for a family meal.
